

Privacy Policy

1. General information

The following information will provide you with an easy to navigate overview of what will happen with your personal data when you visit our website. The term „personal data“ comprises all data that can be identified with you. Since this site is operated from Switzerland, the Swiss Federal Act on Data Protection (FADP) applies. Depending on your location and the way you use this site, other data protection legislation, like for example the GDPR might apply as well. This privacy policy mainly refers to the GDPR since the GDPR can be regarded as the stricter law.

2. Data recording on our website

a) Cookies

This website does not use cookies.

b) Webtracking

Google analytics or other third-party tools for webtracking are not being used.

c) Server log files

The provider of this website and its pages automatically collects and stores information in so-called server log files, which your browser communicates to us automatically. The information comprises:

- type and version of browser used
- used operating system
- Referrer URL
- hostname of the accessing computer
- time of the server inquiry
- IP-address

This data is not merged with other data sources. The log files are only used for error analysis and to measure the reach of the website. The data will be logged by the provider Servertown, Switzerland, in abbreviated form only. This does not allow identification of individual visitors.

This data is recorded on the basis of Art. 13.1 FADP / Art. 6.1.f GDPR. The operator of the website has a legitimate interest in the technically error free depiction and the optimization of the operator's website. In order to achieve this, server log files must be recorded.

2. Request by e-mail, social media or telephone

If you contact us by e-mail or telephone, your request including all resulting personal data will be stored and processed by us for the purpose of processing your request. In order to communicate your data is transferred to the communication providers. We do not pass these data on to other parties without your consent.

The processing of these data is based on Art. 13.2.a FADP / Art. 6.1.b GDPR, if your request is related to the execution of a contract or if it is necessary to carry out pre-contractual measures. In all other cases, the processing is based on your consent (Art. 13.1. FADP / Art. 6.1.a GDPR) and on our legitimate interests (Art. 6.1.f GDPR), since we have a legitimate interest in the effective processing of requests addressed to us or when required by law (Art. 6.1.c GDPR).

The data sent by you to us via contact requests remain with us until you request us to delete, revoke your consent to the storage or the purpose for the data storage lapses (e.g. after completion of your request). Mandatory statutory provisions – in particular statutory retention periods – remain unaffected.

4. Information about the responsible party

The controller is the natural person or legal entity that single-handedly or jointly with others makes decisions as to the purposes of and resources for the processing of personal data (e.g. names, e-mail addresses, etc.).

The data processing controller on this website is:

Jörn Erbguth
Chemin du Champ d'Anier 15
CH-1209 Geneva
joern@erbguth.ch

5. Data protection

For security reasons and to protect the transmission of confidential content, such as purchase orders or inquiries you submit to us as the website operator, this website uses TLS transport encryption. You can recognize an encrypted connection by checking whether the address line of the browser switches from „http://“ to „https://“ and also by the appearance of the lock icon in the browser line.

If the TLS encryption is properly activated, data you transmit to us cannot be read by third parties. We herewith advise you that the transmission of data via the Internet (i.e. through e-mail communications) may be prone to security gaps. Even when the data itself is secured, meta data indicating the fact that there has been some communication might still be visible.

6. Your rights according to GDPR that will be granted to all visitors

a) Right to object to the collection of data in special cases

In the event that data are processed on the basis of Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. f GDPR, you have the right to at any time object to the processing of your personal data based on grounds arising from your unique situation. To do so, all you are required to do is sent us an informal notification via e-mail. To determine the legal basis, on which any processing of data is based, please consult this Privacy Policy. If you log an objection, we will no longer process your affected personal data, unless we are in a position to present compelling protection worthy grounds for the processing of your data, that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms or if the purpose of the processing is the claiming, exercising or defense of legal entitlements (objection pursuant to Art. 21 Sect. 1 GDPR).

b) Revocation of your consent to the processing of data

In the event that data are processed on the basis of consent (Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. a GDPR), you can revoke at any time any consent you have already given us. To do so, all you are required to do is sent us an informal notification via e-mail. This shall be without prejudice to the lawfulness of any data collection that occurred prior to your revocation.

c) Right to log a complaint with the competent supervisory agency

In the event of violations of the FDPA / GDPR or other data protection laws that might apply, data subjects might be entitled to log a complaint with a supervisory agency, in particular in the country where they usually maintain their domicile, place of work or at the place where the alleged violation occurred. The right to log a complaint is in effect regardless of any other administrative or court proceedings available as legal recourses.

d) Right to data portability

You have the right to demand that we hand over any data we automatically process on the basis of your consent or in order to fulfil a contract be handed over to you or a third party in a commonly used, machine readable format. If you should demand the direct transfer of the data to another controller, this will be done only if it is technically feasible.

e) Information about, blockage, rectification and eradication of data Within the scope of the applicable statutory provisions, you have the right to at any time demand information about your archived personal data, their source and recipients as well as the purpose of the processing of your data. You may also have a right to have your data rectified, blocked or eradicated. If you have questions about this subject matter or any other questions about personal data, please do not hesitate to contact us at any time at the address provided in section „Information about the responsible party“.

f) Right to demand processing restrictions

You have the right to demand the imposition of restrictions as far as the processing of your personal data is concerned. To do so, you may contact us at any time at the address provided in section „Information about the responsible party“. The right to demand restriction of processing applies in the following cases:

- In the event that you should dispute the correctness of your data archived by us, we will usually need some time to verify this claim. During the time that this investigation is ongoing, you have the right to demand that we restrict the processing of your personal data.
- If the processing of your personal data was/is conducted in an unlawful manner, you have the option to demand the restriction of the processing of your data in lieu of demanding the eradication of this data.
- If we do not need your personal data any longer and you need it to exercise, defend or claim legal entitlements, you have the right to demand the restriction of the processing of your personal data instead of its eradication.
- If you have raised an objection (e.g. pursuant to Art. 21.1 GDPR), your rights and our rights will have to be weighed against each other. As long as it has not been determined whose interests prevail, you have the right to demand a restriction of the processing of your personal data.

- If you have restricted the processing of your personal data, these data – with the exception of their archiving – may be processed only subject to your consent or to claim, exercise or defend legal entitlements or to protect the rights of other natural persons or legal entities or for important public interest reasons.
